SUMMARY

Final-year B.Sc. CSIT student and backend developer with experience building secure, scalable REST APIs using TypeScript, Node.js, Express.js, PostgreSQL and Redis. Passionate about backend architecture, API design and developing reliable production-ready systems.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

Languages	: TypeScript, JavaScript, Python
Backend	: Node.js, Express.js
Databases	: PostgreSQL, MySQL
Tools	: Git, Docker, Postman
Concepts	: Object-Oriented Programming, SOLID Principles, Clean Architecture

PROJECTS

FormBridge – Email Service for Static Forms	Live GitHub
---	---------------

- Built a backend service that enables static websites to submit form data and deliver it directly to a designated email inbox through a simple API integration.
- Designed and implemented secure authentication and authorization using JWT with HTTP-only cookies
- Implemented Redis-based Token Bucket rate limiting to protect the service against abuse and excessive form submissions.
- Implemented request validation using Zod with centralized error handling.
- Designed the application using Hexagonal Architecture to achieve modularity and maintainability.

TECHNICAL WRITINGS

Node.js Internals: How Node.js Works Under the Hood	Read Article
---	--------------

- Explained the Node.js runtime architecture, including the roles of the V8 JavaScript engine and libuv in asynchronous execution.
- Brief information on heap data data structure and callbacks.
- Covered the Event Loop, its execution phases and how asynchronous operations are scheduled and processed.
- Explored the Linux epoll I/O multiplexing mechanism and its role in enabling efficient, non-blocking I/O in Node.js.
